

17th Century Antique

A 17th century Italian chimneypiece in a highly decorative Macchia Vecchia marble of variegated hues of orange, pinks and dark greys and blacks. Of typical serpentine form, the frieze carved with a well drawn scallop shell, the attribute of Venus, Goddess of love and fertility, this is flanked by inlaid grey marble C-scrolls and black lozenges, the faceted pilaster jambs plain showing off the rich colour of this marble.

Dimensions

Height 46 $\frac{5}{8}$ in (118.5cm) width 75 $\frac{5}{8}$ in (192.1cm)

Internal height 36 $\frac{1}{4}$ in (92cm) width 51 $\frac{1}{8}$ in (130cm)

Footblock to footblock 67 $\frac{3}{4}$ in (172cm)

Reference

I85